Roe v. Wade Overturned: Vincentians help mothers and their babies

We applaud the Supreme Court decision to overturn Roe v Wade. The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops responded to the news stating, "Now is the time ... for coming together to build a society and economy that supports marriages and families, and where every woman has the support and resources she needs to bring her child into this world in love."

For Vincentians, this is not new - the Society of St. Vincent de Paul has always supported pregnant women. In recent years, our Board of Directors authorized an initiative to formalize support of women and their unborn children.

Our Pregnancy Care Partnership ensures pregnant mothers, especially those in crisis, have the support they need throughout their pregnancy and after. This is PRO-LIFE! This is pro family! Now more than ever, our work is critical. If your Conference is not actively participating in the Pregnancy Care Partnership and would like to, please contact Julie Komanetsky at juliek@svdpstl.org or join us on Zoom to hear about the important work being done by Vincentians.

Vincentian Meditation

In the Identity Statement created by the National Office, the Society is referred to as “a Catholic lay organization.” What does lay mean? The laity (laypersons) are those baptized Catholics who have not entered into orders (deacons, priests, bishops) or religious life (religious brothers and sisters). In other words, the laity are most of the Catholics we see at Mass and in our work in the Society.

The primary founder of the Society, Blessed Frederic Ozanam, was a layman. He was a devout Catholic, husband, father, and professional. His life and witness inspired a greater understanding of the role of the laity in the Church.

What is that role? Grounded in the Universal Call to Holiness and Mission, we are charged with renewing, through witness and word, the whole temporal order under the light of the Gospel: marriages, families, friend groups, workplaces, neighborhoods, civic organizations, and more.

Thank you for living this call out in your life and Vincentian work!

The Opportunity Divide

The Opportunity Atlas maps a low-income child's outcome in life based on the neighborhood where he or she grew up. Future income and the likelihood of graduation, incarceration, marriage, and employment are all linked to where the child was raised.

To create the Opportunity Atlas, researchers at Harvard University mapped the actual outcomes in adulthood of 20 million children born between 1978 and 1983. The researchers found striking differences in a low-income child's opportunity to climb the income ladder, and in other life outcomes, based on the neighborhood where the child grew up.

For example, a low-income child (defined as a child whose family is at the 25th percentile of income distribution) who grew up in the Greater Ville neighborhood had, on average at age 35, a household income of $15,000-$19,000 and a chance of incarceration of 5.5% - 9.1%, depending upon the exact census tract where he or she was raised. By contrast, a low-income child who grew up in Kirkwood had, on average at age 35, a household income of $28,000 - $43,000 and a chance of incarceration of < 1% to 3.6%, depending upon the exact census tract where he or she was raised.

Remarkably, researchers also found that every additional year that a child spent in a neighborhood with better outcomes resulted in better outcomes for the child in adulthood.

Recognizing the opportunity gaps within neighborhoods, the Society of St. Vincent de Paul Council of the United States has launched Neighborhoods of Hope<sup>SM</sup>, a data-driven, collective impact approach to address the complex issues facing communities. Neighborhoods of Hope begins with enhanced home visits to identify the obstacles to sustainability in a given neighborhood, then brings together a steering committee of Vincentians and business and community leaders to remove the obstacles. Engagement of Neighbors in the solutioning is key. The initial focus of Neighborhoods of Hope is jobs; i.e., ensuring our Neighbors are employed at their full earning potential and removing the barriers that prevent this.

The National Council cautions to start small, in an area of high unemployment or underemployment that is served by a vibrant Conference. To that end, the 2023 – 2025 Strategic Plan for the Archdiocesan Council of St. Louis includes the following goal: *Establish a Steering Committee comprised of one staff person and three Vincentians to begin a systemic change initiative: identifying a target community; enhancing home visits; identify impediments to prosperity and assess community needs.**

If you are interested in working toward systemic change, please contact the Voice of the Poor Committee at vopstlouis@gmail.com and consider joining us.
